Augmenting RPA

Learn More   🕐 04m 41s

RPA has been all the rage for the last few years particularly when many organizations had not yet implemented process-managed operations. RPA is often viewed as a fast and easy alternative to deliver incremental automation efficiency gains. Yet many soon realized the many drawbacks and limitations of RPA automation like its brittle nature, poor exception handling, weak human workflow support, and the fact that it is not suitable for continuous process improvement.

This video discusses how AgilePoint can augment RPA to address some of RPA's legendary shortcomings and why AgilePoint + RPA = Better Together.

Learn More   🕐 05m 17s

"Why would I need AgilePoint? I already have X, Y, or Z workflow platform!" Not so fast!

How does your platform address business exceptions? What if you need to insert a process step to handle an exception on the fly, or migrate an inflight running process instance to a new version due to business or compliance policy changes? What then?

Watch this video to learn more about how hyper-agile processes lead to an agile and resilient organization.
